HOME MISSIONS DISCUSSED.

The Assembly in Favor of the Proposed Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States—The Dr. Briggs Case Brought Up, but No Action Taken—Doings of the M. E. Conference at Omaha.

PORTLAND, May 25.—The Presbyterian assembly occupied yesterday's forenoon session in the First church with the discussion of the subject of home missions. Dr. S. J. McPherson, of Chicago, presented a report of the work accomplished in the past year. He urged the assembly to spend less time splitting hairs over doctrinal questions, to be less penurious in their offerings for home missionary work, and to devote renewed labor to the evangelization. Dr. Irwin, one of the home secretaries of the home board, followed with an earnest address, and after him came several home missionaries.

The proposed sixteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, providing that no state shall appropriate funds in aid of sectarian schools, was adopted without debate.

The committee on aid to colleges reported that during the year thirty-eight institutions were assisted by the board and that 126 students had entered the Presbyterian ministry. Resolutions commending these academies to the increased contributions of the church were adopted, especial stress being laid upon the fact that young men thus educated receive biblical instruction which the secular institutions do not furnish.

Dr. Thompson, of the committee on co-operation of churches, reported progress and asked that the committee be continued in order that they might take advantage of the new light which they had gained.

Dr. Bartlett, of Washington, arose and said it was a valueless committee and the work that they had done might have been accomplished by sending a messenger boy down to 53 Fifth avenue to the board of home missions and he could have got in ten minutes all the information they had obtained, and that it was absolutely worthless to continue the committee another year.

Dr. Thompson reported that the assembly must excuse Dr. Bartlett, as he has not been long in the denomination. As soon as the last party had subsided, Dr. Bartlett arose to a question of privilege and replied that that was an old joke. That was threadbare. Fifteen years ago he had built Plymouth church in Chicago as a Congregationalist and he was proud of it, but he was born in the Presbyterian church and was a Presbyterian all over.

Dr. Patterson, of Philadelphia, took Dr. Thompson to task for slighting the committee on church utility, and after a short discussion Dr. Bartlett's motion to discharge the committee was laid on the table.

Just before the hour of adjournment it was whispered throughout the assembly that the judicial committee would report on the Briggs case, and soon the church was crowded to the doors by those wanting to hear the expected debate on the question which is exciting Presbyterians all over the land. Dr. Briggs hurried in from his hotel, and was an interested listener to the proceedings. The appeal from the prosecuting committee of the Presbyterians of New York against the action of the presbytery in dismissing the case against Dr. Briggs was then reported on by the judicial committee. The majority report holds that the appeal is well taken; that the prosecuting committee from the New York presbytery should be heard, and that Dr. Briggs should likewise be given an opportunity to present his defense in person before the assembly. The minority report contends that the appeal should not be entertained, and asks the assembly to remand the case to the synod of New York for adjustment.

An effort was made to have the matter taken up and discussed at once, but the friends of Dr. Briggs succeeded in having it go over until today when it will be made the special order of the day for 4 o'clock. The presenters of both reports denied that they were antagonistic, claiming that they were acting simply in accordance with their views of church constitutions. An animated discussion may be looked for when the reports come before the assembly.

The conviction gains ground in the assembly that Union Seminary, headed by Briggs, is deliberately arranging to found a new branch of liberalized Presbyterians and has no intention of compromising with the present church.

Briggs will then pose as a new kind of John Calvin.

Union Seminary was largely endowed by orthodox Presbyterians on the strength of its compact of obedience to the assembly. If the worst comes, law suits by heirs to recover its endowment, are probable.

A committee report deprecating the use of tobacco by young people and proposing that no minister be admitted to the general conference who uses tobacco, was laid over for future action.

An animated discussion ensued over the report of the committee on temperance and prohibition. The report as submitted demands that the church wage ceaseless war against the liquor traffic, commends the United States senate and condemns the public for their legislation on the liquor question, condemns the general government for using the machinery of the government to extend the sale of liquor traffic in South America, and calls upon the people to use the ballot to defeat any party which allies itself with the liquor interests by licensing the manufacture of liquor.

Judge Lawrence, of Ohio, opposed the report, holding that it endorsed the Prohibition party and was condemnatory of the Republican party when it charged collusion by granting licenses. He demanded that the church should favor no party, and offered a sub-declaring that the church demands complete prohibition, and enjoins temperance as the only salvation; that in politics the church is non-partisan and allows each member to cast his ballot as he desires. The sub. was defeated by a vote of 246 to 200, and the prohibitionists were wildly enthusiastic, throwing their hats and handkerchiefs in the air. The Republicans a moment later were cheering in consequence of a motion passed not endorsing any political party.

The report of the committee on Chinese exclusion was unanimously adopted. It denounces the law recently passed as unjust. With a few minor considerations the motion was adopted. The Baltimore conference was transferred to the Philadelphia district, and New York was given three new conferences.

M. E. CONFERENCE.

The Delegates at Omaha Finishing Up Their Work.

OMAHA, May 25.—Bishop Hurst presided over yesterday's session of the Methodist conference. The committee on the state of the church filed a majority and a minority report touching dancing and other worldly amusements. The majority believed there is no sufficient reason for making the proposed change, while the minority desire to eliminate the present penalty of expulsion and allow the members to decide for themselves what amusements are proper.

The conference had a lengthy and heated discussion on adopting a constitution for the Epworth league. The words not intended to disturb other young people's societies were finally stricken out. Trouble among local societies of young people is predicted.

Chaplain McCabe announced that Rev. G. A. Reeder had just given $10,000 for a building in Rome, to be known as Methodist headquarters in Italy.

Dr. J. F. Berry was elected editor of Epworth Herald.

The committee on judiciary reached a very important conclusion upon the meaning of the word "layman" in the discipline, where it provides for lay representation. The committee is of the opinion that the word does not and never has included women, but has meant and does mean men only.

The remainder of the session was devoted to a discussion of the report of the committee on itinerancy, the question at issue being the removal of time limit of the ministry. The proposition to remove the time limit was finally defeated by a vote of 298 to 162 and the conference adjourned.

RETURN TO PRISON.

Effects of a Mother's Love Upon an Escaped Convict.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., May 25.—Arthur Bisot, an escaped convict, after an absence of twelve years returned to the prison south yesterday, on his own accord. Bisot was sentenced from Bedford, Lawrence county, for killing the town marshal, and was given a life sentence. He was then eighteen years of age.

The murder was committed Christmas night, 1876. The sentence passed upon Bisot almost broke his mother's heart, and she was taken ill of brain fever. A long sickness followed, and her physician became convinced that the presence of her son would save her life.

He was given a sixty-days' furlough by Governor Williams upon the assurance that he would return within that time. His mother recovered but Bisot never returned to the penitentiary.

Mrs. Bisot has made repeated efforts to have her son pardoned, but in vain, on the ground that Governor Williams' confidence had been betrayed by the fugitive.

Upon leaving Bedford it appears that he first went to Colorado, thence to Mexico, where he has been engaged in the practice of medicine.

Bisot's old mother is still seeking his pardon, but all the governors to whom she applied gave her the same answer, that no promises would be made unless Bisot surrendered.

Recently Governor Chase intimated that if Bisot surrendered he would pardon him, as he has been leading a good life.

The poor old mother desiring to see the cloud removed from her son's life, finally persuaded him to return. He will probably be pardoned.

CLEARING UP THE MYSTERY.

Detectives Hard at Work on the Recent Tragedy in Texas.

DENISON, Tex., May 25.—A New Orleans detective is said to have a clew, which will clear up the mystery of the murder of Miss Hawley and three other women. The detective is known to have left suddenly last night for Texarkana, Tex., where it is said the clew will be taken up. In many churches Sunday the recent horrible murders were alluded to in a feeling manner.

Has He Been Arrested.

KANSAS CITY, May 25.—It is reported that the police have in custody a man who is believed to be the one who murdered four women at Denison recently. His name is given as Jack Burke, and he is held nominally on a charge of vagrancy. Burke has a bad record, and is known to have come from Texas a few days ago. The police will not give any information about him.

The Artful Dodger.

LONDON, May 25.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Thomas O'Brien, the escaped bunko robber, so that he may at once be taken into custody should he land at any port in Great Britain. Vessels arriving from France are closely watched.

RIOTOUS STRIKERS.

The Labor Trouble in New Orleans Becoming Quite Serious.

NEW ORLEANS, May 25.—The car drivers' strike is assuming serious proportions and rioting has been going on all over the city for the past couple of hours. The mayor has sworn in over 150 citizens as special officers who will accompany the few cars that are being run. The police force are exhausted, having been on duty since the strike began. Over fifty of the strikers have been arrested for throwing cars from the tracks and in the police court they were heavily fined.

The presidents of the various railroad lines have attempted to have the strike settled by arbitration, but the union will not listen to any such proposition. The strike has affected every labor organization in the city and a general tie up is expected. Should this happen, it is feared serious riots will result. The public have condemned the strike and promise the railroads all the protection necessary if they run the cars. The exchanges have all appointed committees on the subject and state that they will act as police if necessary.

Teamsters' Strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 25.—Yesterday the teamsters and shovellers employed by the Warren-Scharf Asphalt company on the North Pennsylvania street improvement struck because the company declined to pay them the schedule rates demanded. The strike may not delay the improvement, as the company claims to be able to supply the strikers' places. Superintendent Robbins says that he was paying the teamsters $3.50 per day, more, he says, than the other contractors were paying, and when they demanded $3.50 for nine hours, or $4 for ten hours' work, he simply refused to pay it, and the strike was the result.

Contractors Giving In.

MADISON, Ind., May 25.—The contractors made their first concession to striking journeymen last evening by a proposition to pay twenty-two and a half cents per hour for a day of nine hours, until Sept. 1, when they will pay the scale demanded, twenty-five cents. They claim that at the prices they have taken contracts, they can not afford to pay, at present, the scale demanded. Everything looks to a speedy settlement of difficulties.

EX-PRESIDENT POLK'S WILL.

It is Declared Null and Void by a Tennessee Court.

NASHVILLE, May 25.—Ex-President James K. Polk's will was declared null and void by Chancellor Allison, this morning, and the estate given to the heirs at law. Polk left the home, consisting of several acres in the heart of Nashville on which his tomb is located to his wife, and after her death to that relative who should be pronounced "worthiest relative bearing the name of Polk," and on that Polk's death to a successor similarly chosen by the governor of Tennessee.

Mrs. Polk died last year and the will was attacked as an attempt to entail the property. Mr. Taskar Polk, of North Carolina, bringing the suit. The decision yesterday overturned the will and gives the heirs at law the property. It is worth probably $300,000.

Death of General Sickles.

MONTEVISTA, Colo., May 25.—General H. F. Sickles, seventy-two years old, died at his home here yesterday from stomach and liver trouble. He entered the service in 1861 and for a long time commanded the Eighty-eighth Illinois regiment. He was wounded in the battle of Pea Ridge, and after his recovery joined Sherman's army and went with him on his march to the sea. Afterward he was military governor of South Carolina. He was a member of the Illinois legislature for several years.

GEN. SICKLES.

Theatrical Manager Arrested.

DETROIT, May 25.—Edward A. Oakes, manager of a theatrical company, who eloped from Pittsburg, two weeks ago, with Emma Miller, a seventeen-year-old sourette, was arrested here yesterday. He is charged by the Pittsburg police with taking some of the company's money. The girl was also arrested, but was turned over to her mother, who resides in Philadelphia, and who had traced the couple here.

Another Columbus Grove Murderer.

COLUMBUS, O., May 25.—Among the mail received by Sheriff Ross yesterday was a mysterious letter, the writer of which claims to belong to a band of southern outlaws and that he is the real murderer in the Columbus Grove bank robbery, for which Frank Van Loon is now being held at the penitentiary annex to await the carrying out of the sentence of death pronounced by the Ottawa county courts.

Requisition Granted.

COLUMBUS, O., May 25.—Daniel McCurdy, the sheriff of Muscatine county, Ia., has obtained requisition papers from Governor McKinley for the apprehension of J. B. Watkins, of Pickaway county, O., indicted in Iowa for selling mortgaged property. Watkins was a farmer, resident and stock raiser in Muscatine county, Ia., and gave a chattel mortgage on his sheep and cattle for $500.

Held Up by Masked Robbers.

AMO, Ind., May 25.—While Elmer Fuson, of this place, was walking homeward at 11:30 last night, he was confronted by two masked men, armed with revolvers, who compelled him to stand and deliver. They robbed him of what money he possessed.

BASED ON GOLD.

New Financial Scheme of Austro-Hungary.

CURRENCY REFORM MEASURE.

Provisions of a Financial Bill Introduced in the Hungarian Diet Identical With Those Laid Before the Austrian Parliament.

LONDON, May 25.—A dispatch from Buda-Pesth says that the currency reform bills introduced in the Hungarian diet agree in their main points with those laid before Austrian parliament. One of the measures directs the notification of the withdrawal or the redemption of the five-per-cent. paper rentes to the total value of 358,000,000 florins, as well as of the bonds and shares of the state railways maturing after July 1 next.

The notification of withdrawal is to be published at least three months in advance. The minister of finance is authorized in exchange for the rentes to be redeemed to issue stock at a lower rate of interest, payable in kronen, and to replace the railway securities by a corresponding issue of four-per-cent. gold rentes, secured by the railways in question and redeemable within seventy-five years.

The preamble of the bill says that the minister of finance has procured from the available funds in the treasury 45,000,000 gold florins, and that according to the treaty clause determining Hungary's quota, a further sum of 33,600,000 gold florins will, therefore, be required for the redemption of the Hungarian state notes. These amounts will suffice if the budgets of Austria and Hungary for the next few years show a surplus. Should the export trade of the monarchy take an unfavorable turn, it would become necessary to make further gold purchases.

The standard of coinage is to be such that 2,952 kronen will go to a kilogram of gold having a fineness of 900-1,000, that is to say, 3,280 kronen will be coined out of a kilogram of pure gold. The gold coins will be twenty and ten kronen pieces and will be struck on both state and private accounts. Ducats will continue to be minted as coins for trading purposes. In addition to these gold coins, the present Austrian silver coins will remain in circulation, the Austrian silver florin being equivalent to two kronen.

The fractional currency will consist of one kronen and fifty heller pieces in silver, twenty and ten heller pieces in nickel and two and one heller pieces in bronze. The silver coinage will have a fineness of 835-1,000 and 200 one-kronen pieces will go to a kilogram of silver.

Austria's share in the new coinage is fixed as follows:

Silver coin, 140,000,000 kronen; nickel coin, 42,000,000 kronen, and bronze coin, 18,200,000 kronen. The existing Austrian paper tokens will remain in circulation for the present, one florin being equal to two kronen. The clause in the coinage treaty between Austria and Hungary determining the quota of coins to be contributed by each state provides for the coinage in the two halves of the monarchy together of 200,000,000 kronen silver pieces, 600,000,000 nickel pieces and 26,000,000 bronze pieces.

Arrangements will be made at the proper moment for the regulation of the paper circulation and the resumption of specie payments. The Austro-Hungarian coinage treaty is to remain in operation until the end of 1910, and as soon as it comes into force the two governments will resume negotiations with a view to making the adoption of the unit compulsory in the monetary nomenclature of the country. Arrangements will then also be made for the regular and general circulation of the new coinage, the regulation of the paper currency and for the enactment of laws for the resumption of specie payments.

The third bill provides that pecuniary obligations may be discharged in gold florins as well as in the new gold coins of the country, forty-two Austrian gold florins being equal to one hundred kronen.

The fourth bill contains an appendix to the statutes of the Austro-Hungarian bank, imposing upon the latter the obligation of exchanging at any time against bank notes the legal gold coin at their nominal value, as well as gold bars according to the legal coinage standard of the kronen currency.

The fifth bill authorizes the minister of finance to raise a loan for procuring the bullion required for the new coinage. The new loan is to be issued in the form of a four-per-cent Austrian gold rente, free of taxes, and Austrian florins to the amount of 183,456,000 are to be redeemed in the new coinage in gold.

BEGGED TO BE LYNCHED.

A Most Extraordinary Crime Reported from Louisiana.

BASTROP, La., May 25.—An unprecedented murder and lynching occurred here yesterday. One man committed the murder and one man did the lynching, with the assistance of the murderer. Senambliss Brigham, manager for Colonel George C. Phillips, who owns a plantation on Desirad, while in the field was shot dead from ambush by an old negro.

The negro then walked to the plantation residence, summoned Colonel Phillips, and told him he had killed Brigham and wanted to be hanged for it. Colonel Phillips put a rope around the negro's neck, and the negro was soon swinging in a death struggle from the limbs of a tree. No motive is assigned for the murder, and it is thought the negro was insane.

Has the Augusta Chronicle found out yet that Mt. Sterling is not in this Congressional district?

WHAT the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette doesn't know about the political situation would fill a volume or two perhaps, but it goes right along talking as though it was thoroughly informed. It now has Cleveland as Wall street's candidate. Well, Wall street must control a great many States throughout the country.

JUDGE NOTT of the United States Supreme Court recently wrote an article on the depreciation of farm lands, in which he tells of a farm in Massachusetts, situated within a stone's toss of a railroad over which twenty trains passed daily, that had just been sold for $6,500, though the improvements on it cost over $10,000. Just what explanation of it he gives, we have not learned, but ex-Speaker Read accounts for the depreciation by saying that "not a d—n one of the trains stop." The "home market" theory doesn't seem to work well in Massachusetts, where there is a protected industry at most every crossroad.

Fast Line to be Vestibuled.

On June 1 the C. and O.'s Washington Fast Line will be equipped with new vestibule cars. They will be lighted with electricity, and the Pintsch gas system heretofore used will be discontinued. All the C. and O.'s through trains will hereafter be lighted with electricity. Electric lighting has many points of superiority in its favor over all the other systems. It is more brilliant, has no odor, no heat, and is absolutely safe. The Washington Fast Line, with the exception of the F. V. Vestibule Limited (the only solid train with through dining-cars to Washington and New York) will be the handsomest from Cincinnati to the East—through Virginia battle-fields and the most picturesque regions of America.

The Cabin Creek and Springdale Turnpike Company's annual report was filed. The receipts were $81.33; balance at last report $2.05; making total of $83.38. Of this sum $81.33 was expended. The company owes $23.70.

Features of the Election Bill.

The Election bill now pending in the House at Frankfort provides that primaries shall be held and conducted in exactly the same manner as a regular election, and the same penalties are imposed for the punishment of all offenders.

The committee or governing authority of the political parties appoint the officers of election from lists furnished by the candidates, and stringent provisions for the regulation of the committees are provided. It is made the duty of the committee to order a primary in all cases where a certain percent of the voters demand it by petition. The provisions in regard to counting and printing the ballots and all the details of the elections are explicit and binding.

Every possible point in connection with the registration feature is hedged around with the utmost care, and heavy penalties are provided for the punishment of all offenders.

The official count in Lewis County was made yesterday morning. Following is the result:

Wall's majority in this county over Hillis is 696. Hillis beat him in Lewis 274, leaving Wall a majority of 422.

Sheriff William came down in the afternoon, and the official result was certified to the State authorities.

An examination of the vote in Lewis shows that the Farmers' Alliance cut quite a figure in the election. Mr. Luttrell carried one precinct—Valley. Luttrell's total vote in the district is 266. He had his name taken off the books in this county at 9 o'clock the day of election.

Judge Wall went to Frankfort this morning, and will qualify and enter upon his duties to-day.

THE "KING HOUSE."

It Was the Scene of Another Killing at a Late Hour Last Night.

Harvey Harris, Colored, Shot Down by Lee Montjoy—Particulars of the Affair

The tenement building known as the "King House," on the Fleming pike, was the scene of another killing last night. Between 10 and 11 o'clock, Harvey Harris, colored, was shot down by Lee Montjoy. The weapon used was a 38-calibre Smith & Wesson pistol. Montjoy fired twice, but only one shot took effect, the ball entering almost in the center of the breast. Harris staggered a few feet and fell on his face at the edge of the street, dying in a few minutes.

Harris was better known as Harvey Baldwin. He had been employed about the hotels for a year or so, and for some time had driven the baggage dray between the Central and the depots. He was about thirty years of age.

Immediately after the killing Montjoy came down town and surrendered to Deputy Marshal Stockdale, who lodged him in jail.

A representative of the BULLETIN saw Montjoy this morning. He says he went out and was waiting for a woman who was in the house. Tom Souseley, colored, and another fellow whom Montjoy says he didn't know came up to where he was, and then went down through a narrow alley to the rear of the house. Shortly after Montjoy went down through this alley to a small porch in the rear. Harris was in the door, and as Montjoy came up he asked: "Where did Tom go?" "Who are you talking to, you s—n of a b—h?" was Harris' reply. Montjoy says Harris immediately drew back and struck him in the side with his fist, knocking him across the porch. He saw Harris step off into the narrow alley and stoop down and pick up something. Harris drew back as though in the act of throwing at him. Montjoy had his pistol out by this time and fired twice. He doesn't know which shot struck.

Montjoy says he didn't know who Harris was at the time. He had never had any trouble with him.

At the Coroner's inquest held this morning before Squire Miller, Souseley and Jack Keyes, who was with him, both testified to finding Montjoy at the house when they reached it. Souseley says he saw Montjoy peeping down into the alley. He afterwards came down. Harris was standing on the corner of porch. Shortly afterwards the shooting was done. All he heard Harris say was, "Don't shoot, please, Mister."

Souseley and Keyes were at the house earlier in the night, but Montjoy came and they left.

Montjoy killed Lewis Berry, colored, a few years ago within twenty feet of where he shot Harris last night.

Harris was generally regarded as an inoffensive man.

The verdict of the Coroner's jury was simply that Harris came to his death from a pistol shot fired by Montjoy.

Montjoy's examining trial is set for 2 o'clock to-day before Judge Pfister.

IN FAVOR OF PLAINTIFF.

The Jury in the Wilson Case Renders a Verdict for $2,250 Against the Street Railway.

The trial of the case of G. L. Marvin, administrator of Marion Wilson, against the Maysville Street Railway Company ended yesterday in the United States Circuit Court at Covington. The jury rendered a verdict for $2,250 against the company.

The circumstances of the killing of Wilson are still fresh in the minds of newspaper readers. During the work of converting the road into an electric line, Wilson was run over by the cars. His neck was broken and he died almost instantly. He was seated on the track working a drill at the time, and the car came up behind him. The accident occurred in Chester, now Sixth ward.

The suit was for $10,000 damages.

The case was tried before Judge Taft, who was recently appointed by President Harrison to a position on the U. S. Court of Appeals bench. The plaintiff was represented by Mr. L. W. Robertson, of this city, Mr. G. Bambach, of Ripley, and Mr. William M. Tugman, of Cincinnati. Messrs. Wadsworth & Son and Cochran & Sons were the company's attorneys.

THE Winchester Sun tells how one of the latest frauds is worked. It says: "Last week a slick individual was around ostensibly taking the census of the dead. He would call at a house and inquire if any of the family had died recently. If answered in the affirmative, he carefully noted the name and age of decedent, and date of death. Having obtained the desired information he took his leave, and the unsuspecting house-wife, with whom he invariably managed to transact his business, will, in a few days, be asked to pay an exorbitant price for a gloomy memorial card which she never ordered, and does not want. It is a low, mean, ghoulish trick, and only the very foolish ones will be taken in by it."

MOB VIOLENCE.

Such Will Be the Death of a Tennessee Rapist.

FRANK WEEMS THE VICTIM.

Thousands of Men Awaiting His Arrival in Chattanooga and Thousands More Searching for Him—The Law Powerless to Protect Him.

CHATTANOOGA, May 25.—Criminal Judge Tyler yesterday ordered the negro Frank Weems, the Chattanooga rapist, removed from the Clarksville jail to this city, fearing a mob.

Weems was sent from here to Nashville last Thursday to escape lynching.

Mobs have gathered in every town to which he was taken, and Memphis, Knoxville and Nashville refuse to let him stay in their jails, so he is sent back. He will be lynched unless the sheriff outwits the mob.

As soon as it was learned that he was coming bands of armed men began riding out on horseback, in buggies and in hacks to Wauhatchie station, about six miles from the city, to intercept the 1 o'clock train to take Weems, and lynch him.

Warned by a telegram the sheriff and his prisoner left the train at Hooker, four miles this side of Wauhatchie, and took to the mountains. The mob searched the train at Wauhatchie at 1 o'clock and then started for Hooker and across the mountains.

This city has never known so much excitement as now exists here. Weems, the rapist, has not been found by the mob, and large crowds are congregated on the streets in front of the jail. One thousand people are waiting to string him up, while various mobs are gathering in various parts of the city, and every one is armed.

He will be smuggled into jail probably, and the mob will eventually hang him. An unusually large force of deputies is stationed at the jail and bloodshed is feared. The state has done nothing to aid the sheriff, and, as there is no militia will not do so.

FEARING A RACE WAR.

Nashville is Threatened with a Bloody Battle.

NASHVILLE, May 25.—The state of Tennessee will probably be the first of the southern states to witness a race war. Feeling ran high here last night, and the negroes of Nashville were about to lynch L. G. Thompson, a thirteen-year-old white boy, who was accused of assaulting a small negro.

Three negroes ran at the boy, but were driven back. The matter was reported to the governor, and two military companies were placed under reserve. It is feared the negroes will attack the boy at his preliminary trial, and blood will flow. The whites here are indignant and excited. So are the negroes.

OHIO KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Liquor Dealers Not Eligible to Membership in the Order.

COLUMBUS, O., May 25.—The twenty-third annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Ohio Knights of Pythias began here yesterday. There are 612 delegates. The address of welcome on the part of the city was made by ex-Mayor P. H. Bruck, and on the part of the local knights by Professor W. H. Lazenby, to which Grand Chancellor L. E. Williams, of Ripley, responded. The morning was spent in preliminaries. In the afternoon the business of the session was taken up.

Most of the deliberations were on subjects of no interest to the public except one. The liquor question was brought up and important action taken. It was declared that liquor dealers were not only ineligible to the order, but also that persons interested in saloons were ineligible. As to saloon keepers, who are now members, they adopted the local option plan. The local lodges shall decide whether they shall continue their membership or be expelled.

RUSTLER OUTRAGES.

United States Officers Shamefully Mistreated and Other Devility.

DOUGLASS, WY., May 25.—It is reported that the small stockmen of Johnson county are shooting down, on the ranches, cows with calves following them and branding the calves, and that wholesale stealing of cattle is of daily occurrence. It is also announced that the United States officers en route to Fort McKinney have been held up and treated in a shameful manner.

The eastern relatives of Thomas Wagoner, who was lynched last June by the emissaries of the cattle barons, will take steps to investigate the matter. United States deputy marshals are serving injunctions against the small stockmen of Crazy Woman, who have almost completed their round-up. The country is still patrolled by armed men, and at present it would be impossible for an invading force to surprise the stockmen.

Youthful Female Tramps.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., May 25.—Zenobia White and Rose Cecil, aged eleven and twelve years respectively, arrived in the city this morning, foot sore and suffering of hunger. The Cecil girl said that herself, father and Zenobia had walked from Bowling Green, Ky., to Louisville, and on reaching that city her father had deserted them. The story was believed until an investigation revealed that the young misses were fugitives from the Baptist Orphans' home, of Louisville, from which institution they had escaped some days ago. They did not desire to return to the orphanage, because of too close confinement and fear of being punished. They were taken back, however.

St. Paul Franchise Comes East.

LIQUOR CAUSED IT.

The Murder of Samuel Early Explained on the Scaffold.

PITTSBURG, May 25.—Patrick Fitzpatrick, the murderer of Samuel Early, explained his crime on the scaffold in the county jail yard yesterday. The trap was sprung at 11:05 a. m., and in fifteen minutes life was pronounced extinct. Death resulted from strangulation.

The condemned man spent his last night on earth without much incident. At 11:30 he retired and slept soundly until 12:20, when he rose and knelt down and prayed for an hour. At 6 o'clock Father Griffin appeared and remained with him until the hour of the execution. Fitzpatrick said there was nothing he could say that would help his case. The murder was caused by liquor. He was satisfied that a man of his nervous temperament should never drink. When the hour arrived for the execution the condemned walked firmly to the scaffold and mounted. Before the black cap was placed over his head he bade those present good by and was ready to meet his fate. The noose was adjusted and he was launched into eternity.

The execution was witnessed by only thirty persons, including the physicians, jury and reporters. Outside the jail about 200 people gathered, but they were soon dispersed by the police.

The crime for which Fitzpatrick was executed was the killing of Samuel Early, a steel roller, on the night of Sept. 2, 1891. The murderer was for many years a tramp, but worked at odd times as a laborer.

On the night of the murder he met his victim, Samuel Early, in the Phoenix hotel barroom, 51 Eleventh street, and they had several drinks. About 10:30 a quarrel arose between the men and ended in Early knocking Fitzpatrick down. John Payne, the bartender, put Fitzpatrick out and told Early to follow. As Early pushed one of the swinging doors open, Fitzpatrick, who was on the outside, stabbed Early in the groin. The injured man staggered back and said to Payne, "Look here." He fell down and in three minutes he was dead.

The murderer was arrested and at the fall term of court was tried, convicted of murder in the first degree and condemned to death. The governor appointed March 25 as the day for his execution, but the pardon board granted a respite for sixty days and afterwards refused to interfere further. Fitzpatrick was thirty-nine years of age and unmarried.

HOUSE AND SENATE.

A Day of Uninteresting Proceedings in Both Branches of Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The house devoted another day to the sundry civil bill without concluding it. The session was consumed in debating amendments to sections which were passed over informally last week. An attempt was made by Mr. Enloe, Democrat, of Tennessee to reduce the appropriation for the United States and coast and geodetic survey by cutting down certain estimates for field work and salary. This however was unnecessary. The debate assumed a various range, being directed at the various scientific departments which were the subjects of criticism.

All day the senate was occupied in a further discussion of the bill to confer jurisdiction upon the United States courts to try offenses committed in the states against alien residents of treaty powers. The opposition to the bill was so strong that Mr. Morgan, one of the sub-committee on foreign relations who drew up the measure, expressed a willingness to postpone its further consideration till December, and the senate adjourned pending a motion to recommit the bill to the committee on foreign relations.

The court will be in session a couple of days, and is expected to settle the trouble which has been agitating the corps in the state for months past.

The Same Old Gold Brick Swindle.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 25.—George Swygart, a wealthy man and former miner, was worked by the gold brick racket here yesterday. A fine appearing man introduced himself as a nephew from Arizona. He told Swygart he had found an Indian in Chicago with a gold brick weighing seventy pounds, and that it could be bought for $7,000. Swygart secured the money and in company with his alleged nephew and a gold assayer, alleged to come from Philadelphia, went a mile from town into Cogniard woods and met an Indian. Swygart thought the brick genuine and paid over the cash. The swindlers have fled.

Skill in the Wrist.

It is wonderful what a part the wrist plays in exercises in which physical skill and delicacy are required. After a man learns to play billiards well enough to be familiar with the cushions and the English, the important thing to cultivate is his stroke. It is the hardest thing about billiard playing to get a good stroke, and sometimes the greatest players "fall down" because they lose control of it. Now, the stroke wholly depends on the action of the wrist. Jake Schaeffer, or any good player, will make a shot of seven cushions with less apparent force than a beginner will exert in getting three. This is due to the superior wrist movement.

It's the same way with violin playing. The quality and touch all depend on wrist manipulation. So with curving a baseball. Great pitchers always work a strong wrist movement on the ball as it leaves the hand. If they didn't it wouldn't curve at all.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Good Story About a Saco Lawyer.

A Saco lawyer lost his office key and with it, on the same bunch, the keys to his safe and house.

There is a spring lock on his office door, and he concluded that he must have left it in his office and have come out and locked the door. He accordingly borrowed a long ladder and crawled through the back window of his office.

No keys were to be seen, and after cogitating over the peculiar state of affairs he at last let himself out, and there on the outside of the lock were hanging the keys.—Bangor (Me.) Commercial.
